GAVE 'EM A SHOCK.

Democrats Made Dizzy by the President's Letter, for They Thought He had Been "Muzzled"—Now Watch Parker.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President's letter accepting the nomination for President made the Democrats here feel even more jubilant than they felt when they heard what Vermont had done. Every Republican in Washington was enthusiastic in praise of his clear-cut statements of Republican principles and Democratic defects. Gen. Grovernor of Ohio said: "No man without prejudice can read that letter and fail to pronounce it the greatest document of its kind ever put forth. There will be no reply to President Roosevelt's arraignment of the Democratic party and its statement of the attitude of the Republican party." In Democratic circles, the publication of the letter created something almost like a political panic. For some weeks past the Democrats have been foolish enough to say in public places that the President had been muzzled by somebody, and that during this campaign he would be careful to make no strong statements. But the Democratic leaders here got dizzy in their frantic efforts to "about face" when they read the letter this morning, and Chairman Coward of the Democratic Congressional Committee went so far as to say that the President had spoken so plainly that it was dangerous.

Coward admitted that it was an admirable letter to read, but its frankness made him "tremble for the safety of the republic." Two days ago, this same leader was trembling for the safety of the republic because the President was not frank enough to suit him. Democrats are agreed that acceptance that can stand alongside the President's letter is an open invitation to be overthrown. What the Democrats really are afraid of is that their candidate, after having been urged so forcibly by many leaders of his party to come out and open up and make a vigorous campaign, may overdo his part. His forthcoming letter is awaited with most intense interest by every Democrat who is following the campaign closely.

CORTELIOUS CONFERENCE.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.] CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—National Chairman Cortelyou today began his series of conferences with the chairmen of Western Republican State Committees concerning the general political situation in their States. Missouri was the first on the list. National Committeeman Thomas J. Aikens and State Chairman Walter D. Dickey, visited headquarters, and Chairman Cortelyou was told that the Republicans had a good chance to carry Missouri this year.

Word was received from George Stone, chairman of the California State Committee, that he would be tomorrow to consult Mr. Cortelyou, and other conferences have been arranged with the local Republican managers for Wyoming, Utah and Idaho.

WHAT WILL UNCLE SAM DO WITH LENA?

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—No representative of the United States government has as yet boarded the Russian converted cruiser Lena for the purpose of substantiating the claims of Capt. A. T. Berlinky that the warship put into this port solely for the reason that her boilers were in such condition as to render her absolutely unseaworthy. The Russian warship has now remained in port long over the 24-hour limit, and prominent members of the local Russian and Japanese colonies are evincing great interest in what they are prone to designate a "serious complication."

It has been learned that local United States Inspector of Hulls and Boilers John K. Balger will leave at 8 o'clock in the morning on the United States revenue cutter Hartley for the Lena. He will make a thorough inspection of her boilers and as soon as possible submit a written report to Collector of the Port Stratton. Upon this report may depend whether or not the Lena is ordered to put to sea immediately or whether she is allowed to remain until such time as the repairs deemed necessary may be made. The Japanese were the first to bestir themselves when they learned of the presence of the Russian ship. Prominent members of the Japanese colony, called on Kishaburo Uyeno, Japanese Consul-General, and a long conference was held. What took place at this session is told by a prominent Japanese. He said that it was decided to have the Japanese Consul-General call on Collector Stratton and make the demand that the Lena leave port immediately. In the event of the refusal of this request, the Consul-General was advised to demand of Collector Stratton that he be allowed to be the sole judge of the fitness of the Russian cruiser to put to sea.

In accordance with these plans the Japanese Consul-General called upon Collector Stratton shortly after he entered his office this morning.

able to say much for publication. I will say, however, that this delay is not caused by my ignorance of the points of international law involved in this matter. These are absolutely clear and I understand them thoroughly. The point is, I don't know just how far I can go without authority."

Just then a telegram from Washington was handed the collector. Its contents he refused to make public. BOILERS NEED REPAIRS.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—The Russian cruiser Lena, which unexpectedly arrived in port yesterday from Vladivostok, remains at anchor off the Union Iron Works. Her commander declares that her boilers are in need of repair and that some time must elapse before she will be in condition to again go to sea. As yet nothing has been done toward placing her in a drydock and no information has been dropped regarding her future movements.

The United States authorities here say that their action will be governed by instructions from Washington. In accordance with instructions received from the Navy Department, Rear-Admiral Goodrich today visited the Lena and held a conference with her commander, the result of which has not yet been given out. At about the same time, Kishaburo Uyeno, the Japanese Consul here, went to the office of Collector of the Port Stratton and discussed the situation. At the conclusion of the conference neither would state, in detail, what had been said. The Consul refused even to discuss the object of his visit.

Collector Stratton, however, gave out a statement in which he said: "I have decided not to allow the Japanese to go aboard the Lena to make an examination. This matter is between the United States and the Russian government, and the United States will attend to it without any assistance from anybody. I know the law thoroughly and will enforce it. I am not awaiting visits from the consuls interested. The neutrality of the United States will be maintained without regard to any request or act of the Japanese Consul. I may or may not wire the department on the subject."

UNCLE SAM WILL INSPECT.
Rear-Admiral Goodrich lunched with

Capt. Berlinky and other officers of the Lena on board the vessel. They could not be seen by Lieut. Zerkov, speaking for the captain, stated that the main object of the Russian vessel in making this port was to have absolutely necessary repairs made to her engines and boilers. Her bottom is foul and will have to be cleaned in a drydock. The lieutenant said that the Lena's coal bunkers were far from being depleted, and he thought it would be unnecessary for her to coal at this port.

The United States inspectors of hulls and boilers have been ordered to make a thorough examination of the Lena, and on their report will largely depend the duration of the stay of the vessel. If it is decided that repairs are required, they will be made as rapidly as possible, and it is generally anticipated that this is what will be done.

Collector of the Port Stratton has not received any definite instructions from Washington as to whether a full statement of the situation and an answer is soon expected. In the meantime, the collector, in view of the fact that repairs are said to be imperative, has refused to order the Lena to leave the port until the twenty-four hours without a full investigation.

The Lena is anchored between the four army transports lying in Mission Bay and the new battleship Ohio. In fact, she is only a few feet away from the big guns of the battleship which was accepted by the government Saturday.

Going alongside the dark hull, a line of Russian Jackies were seen along the rail.

At the top of the boarding ladder a file of marines were drawn up on the deck, and an officer wearing the white cap that war illustrations have made familiar blocked the way, but after a few words pointed the way to the cabin.

The saloon of the Lena is a spacious apartment, as the vessel was a passenger liner before the war. At one end of the tables a group of officers were leisurely sipping coffee and smoking Russian cigarettes.

"WE CANNOT FIGHT."
Navigating Officer Speckner, who spoke excellent English, said: "We were sent to Vladivostok to transfer the troops home when the war should be over. The Lena is not a warship. We cannot fight."

"Needing repairs, we were first ordered back to the Baltic. Afterward, these orders were changed and we have come here because it is the nearest port in which we could get the new boilers we need."

Being asked now how long he would remain here, Officer Speckner said: "We expect orders from our naval representative at Washington, who has just been advised of our arrival. It is probable that he will ask the American government for permission to remove the guns from our decks and to allow the vessel to remain here until the repairs can be finished."

When asked how long he thought that would remain here until the war is over, we expect that the officers and crew will be sent home via New York."

Pacific Mail steamers and the matter of contraband of war was brought up. "Ah, that is a thing of the past. We cannot fight," he said as he looked at the guns of the Ohio. "But," he added, "if the government will not let us dismantle the ship we will have to make hasty repairs and put to sea."

This afternoon the Russian consul and the captain of the Lena had a conference with Collector Stratton, but the result of the meeting has not yet been announced.

The Chronicle says that the sailing orders of the American squadron now at this port have been cancelled by a dispatch from the Navy Department to Rear-Admiral C. F. Goodrich, instructing him to await further orders.

The squadron, which consists of the armored cruiser New York, the cruisers Boston and Marblehead, the gunboat Bennington and the torpedo boat destroyer Paul Jones, were under orders to sail today for Magdalena Bay for target practice.

DISAGREEABLE SURPRISE.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.] WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Admiral Goodrich's report on the presence of the Russian cruiser Lena caused a great sensation in official circles here. The entry of the steamship was entirely unexpected and was a disagreeable event, for it had been hoped by the officials that America would get the being drawn into the necessity of making close decisions regarding the rights of belligerent countries in our ports.

Secretary Morton promptly sought the opinion of the State Department, sending Capt. Pillsbury, chief of the Navigation Bureau, over to see Acting Secretary Adee. The latter in turn called upon Benjamin Field, the department's solicitor, and a conference resulted between the three men, lasting half an hour.

Then the statement was made that after all, this was not a matter which at this stage concerned the State Department. It is rather the jurisdiction of the Treasury Department.

The presence of the Russian transport, so called, in San Francisco Harbor involves the application of the United States neutrality law and it was said at the State Department that it was the duty, under the President's proclamation of neutrality, for the treasury officials there—the Collector of Customs and Surveyor of the Port and United States Attorney in San Francisco—to take any action necessary in this matter. In other words, the case is purely internal as it stands, though it may become external at any moment.

Secretary Morton has telegraphed Rear-Admiral Goodrich, commander-in-chief of the Pacific squadron, directing him to let the Pacific squadron at San Francisco and to inquire of the commander of the Lena what his intentions are. If it should appear that the vessel is really unworthy she must go to sea at once, at least within twenty-four hours of notice.

It is believed at the Navy Department that the conditions will not be allowed to shape themselves so that the Lena can go out of San Francisco harbor to prey on American waters. The vessel is carried in Japanese bottoms. In fact, the impression prevails that the Lena will be tied up at San Francisco until the end of the war, the crew remaining aboard if the Japanese government does not order her to leave before the view of the precedent established recently in the case of the Askold; or they may be favorably quartered at the training station of Yerba Buena Island, in the middle of the harbor.

It is believed that the Russian captain will not be adverse to this arrangement, as he is probably a refugee and without hope of being able to keep the seas and escape the penalties of neutrality laws until some opportunity gives him a chance to carry the Lena through the Japanese blockade at Vladivostok.

Minister Takahara is not expected to return to Washington until this afternoon. Meanwhile, a telegram was received at the State Department by Mr. Hiroki, first secretary, from Kishaburo Uyeno, the Japanese Consul-General at San Francisco, reporting the arrival of the Lena and giving substantially the same explanation as was presented at the State Department in the news dispatch printed this morning.

JAPAN PROTESTS IN RE LENA.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.] WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The expected protest by Japan against allowing the Russian auxiliary cruiser Lena, which arrived at San Francisco yesterday, to remain longer than twenty-four hours, came today, when the Japanese Consul-General in that city, through the Collector of Customs, made formal demand that the vessel be required to leave at the end of that time.

The collector's telegram officially notifying the authorities of the arrival of the Lena and of Japan's protest addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, who at once sent copies to Acting Secretary Murray of the Department of Commerce and Labor, who has jurisdiction in the matter. The telegram reads as follows:

"Japan Consul General demands upon me that the Russian auxiliary cruiser Lena, arriving at this port on the 11th inst., leave within twenty-four hours. The captain reports that he has been ordered to leave the port and to be in the law or regulations for the collector assuming any authority in the premises, and request instructions."

After a conference with the Commissioner of Navigation, Acting Secretary Murray made the following dispatch to the collector:

"Your telegram addressed to Secretary of the Treasury concerning Russian steamship Lena received at 4:40 p.m. You should have addressed this department, as directed in circular 29. Wire this department hour of steamer's arrival at your port and concise résumé of steamer's inspection's report, and if repairs are necessary, the probable time required to make

WAR NEWS AFTER MIDNIGHT.

ASSOCIATED PRESS HEADQUARTERS, NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—

The sanguinary side of the Russo-Japanese conflict is not now in evidence, and with the practical suspension of news from the front, interest for the time is centered in the rumors that Victory Alexieff has resigned, as reported Sunday; that Gen. Kourpalkin is to be replaced by Lieut.-Gen. Linvitch, now in command of the forces at Vladivostok; and other statements which cannot be traced to authoritative sources, but all of which, if true, would have a most important bearing on the situation.

One Russian correspondent points out that when the Japanese withdrew from the Russian front it is usually the precursor of their appearance on the flanks, and he thinks the indications point to a winter campaign. Interest again turns to Port Arthur and to the effect the Russian defeat is likely to have on the garrison there, and the view is expressed that the help will soon end in disaster for the Russians.

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.] KATTOVITZ, Prussia, Sept. 12.—Anti-Jewish disturbances occurred Sunday at the frontier town of Sosnowice, Russian Poland, on the occasion of the celebration of the Jewish New Year. Boys stoned the celebration and injured a child, with the result that the rumor spread that the Jews had killed a child. A number of workmen marched in procession through the streets in the evening, stoning the windows of the Jewish houses and injured a child, with the result that the rumor spread that the Jews had killed a child. JAPANESE CONTROL OF KOREA.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Herald's Seoul cablegram says the Japanese control of Korea's finances is assured by the successful termination of diplomatic negotiations resulting in the appointment as Japanese adviser to the Korean finance department of M. Megata, a trusted and capable official from the Tokio Department of Finance, who will assume office September 15.

It is expected that drastic measures will be adopted to husband Korea's resources, place her finances on sound footing, and ameliorate the lot of the heavily-overtaxed people. Among other reforms contemplated is the wholesale reduction of Korea's useless standing army. The abolition of numerous unnecessary government departments and bureaus will greatly assist in accomplishing the Japanese desiderata. Korea's currency is doomed, and the ultimate adoption of the Japanese money standard is certain.

M. Hayashi, the Japanese Minister to Korea, has also obtained Korea's acquiescence to the appointment of D. W. Stevens of Washington as adviser to the Korean Foreign Office. Since the above measures have been obtained, a lull has become apparent in Japan's aggressive political policy. The determined popular Korean opposition to the obnoxious conclusion of vacant lands seemingly caused Japanese authorities to desist from further pressure at present, although probably the measure is only in abeyance until a favorable opportunity arises for its enforcement. Unwise pressure in this matter awakened some old-time hatred of Koreans for the Japanese. There is a feeling that it will now require long-continued Japanese friendliness to restore confidence.

noon at 11:30 o'clock this morning the second section of passenger train No. 4,
west bound, crashed into the first section of passenger train No. 4, special Knights Templar train, three miles west of Verdi, two persons being instantly killed and a dozen injured,

many of them dangerously so and some
of whom probably will die.

The train at this writing are:

Both were scalded to death.
The injured are:

Two engines were attached to each
train, and the four locomotives are completely wrecked. Two baggage cars and one day coach are a mass of splinters.

A wrecking train was hurried to the scene from Truckee and physicians
from that place and Reno are now on the ground, giving the best attention

possible under the circumstances to the injured.

The collision occurred on an open
curve and it is the impression here
at this time that failure to obey the signals was the cause of the crash.

Part of the west-bound train
passed the wreck and loss of life and injury.

BOY SHOTS HIS FATHER.

FATAL AFFRAY AT STOCKTON.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
STOCKTON, Sept. 12.—The startling
news of the fatal shooting of a boy
made this morning by fifteen-year-old

Harry Buckner, who was surrendered to Chief of Police Walker. Young Buck-

ner was detained at the office while the body of his father was being removed
to the hospital.

He found the man dead on the floor,
a bullet hole in his heart. A bullet hole in the floor near the body

showed that a second shot had been fired.

The boy says that while he was preparing to dress for school this morning
he noticed his father was engaged in mending his clothing. Presently

his father demanded breakfast.
Mrs. Buckner said she had no food left for the boy. The father then became ugly, and, according to Mrs.

report, struck her twice. The boy,
who was not telling his mother what he was doing, secured a pistol and went to the kitchen. He fired at his father, who fell. The boy then fled.

track of the fire are the Cinnabar King,
Double Star, Boston and the Pacific.
The buildings of the Missouri mine
were badly damaged. Tonight the flames are sweeping toward the Culver Baer properties. The total damage
will be heavy.

PROMOTION COMMITTEE'S TRIP.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—An official invitation has been received by the California Promotion Committee from

President Goode of the Lewis and Clark Exposition to visit the Portland
Fair next year.

In the invitation the suggestion is made that the Californians arrange to visit the fair in a body, and to that end extend the annual business men's

trip to the Oregon metropolis in the 1905.

As this coincides with the original
plan of the Promotion Committee, efforts will be put forth to make this excursion a noteworthy event. The exact date for the Portland fair has not yet been fixed, as it is desired to consult with those who are to be of the party

before making final arrangements.

TWO WOMEN BADLY BEATEN.

Large Attack by Chicago
Strike Rioters.

Several Persons Nearly Killed
by Donnelly's Own.

Scheme to Unionize California
School Teachers.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Two savage attacks were made upon non-union workmen at the stock yards tonight, and in the fights that followed eight people
were injured, four of them so severely
that it was necessary to take them to the hospital.

The first disturbance occurred at Halstead and Root streets. Two young men, Annie Cook and Mattie Jasper,
were on an east-bound Root-street car.
When it reached Halstead street several men and boys, with the aid of two other women, boarded the car and
began to throw stones at the women.
The women were badly beaten before the police arrived. They were taken to the hospital.

Mattie Jasper was struck
with a brick and a face and forehead
were badly injured. The men were scattered from the car track and began to throw stones.

A second riot took place on Root
street, near Princeton avenue, where several colored men employed in the yards were attacked by a large crowd of sympathizers with the stock-yard strikers. John Sims, one of the men, was knocked down and kicked nearly to death. His knee cap was broken, his jaw was broken and he was badly injured about other portions of
his head and severely hurt in the chest.
The police finally dispersed the mob
and several arrests were made.

WANTS TEACHERS TO UNIONIZE.

CALIFORNIA STATE FEDERATION OF LABOR'S LATEST.

Knox, Who Was Tried for Wrecking Train During Strike on the Es-pee, Which Caused the Death of Three Soldiers, Has Bright Idea for Instructors of Youth of the Land.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The California State Federation of Labor today sent out
letters to all public school teachers of San Francisco, urging them to organize a union, as has been done in San Jose and several other California
cities. The letter suggests that one teacher from each school in the city
be selected as a representative to be present at the meeting with the officials of the State Federation of Labor
to discuss and arrange details, the result of the meeting to be reported back to the teachers in each school.

The letter is signed by Harry A.
Knox, president, and G. P. Benham, secretary. This Knox is the man who was tried during the big railroad
strike on the Southern Pacific, for wrecking a train near Sacramento and
causing the loss of lives of three soldiers of the regular army. There was no question that Knox was implicated
in the foul crime, but he escaped conviction.

TEEN THOUSAND WANT WORK.

APPLICATIONS AT STOCKYARDS.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—It is estimated
that about 10,000 men applied for work
at the stockyards today. About 4,000
of the applicants were taken back by the packers. Many of the non-union men failed to report for work.

A few clashes were reported, chiefly
flame encounters between negro strike
breakers and white unionists. About 1,000 non-union men are still at work in the yards.

Strike Instead of Resumption.

SHARON (Pa.) Sept. 12.—Instead of a resumption at the American Steel and Wire Works at South Sharon today, the company has a strike on its hands. Preparations had been going on to get the wire, wire mill and Bloomington mills in shape for starting today. When the men reported today the wire drawers were notified of a 25 per cent. reduction. They refused to accept it and struck. An immediate settlement of the trouble is not looked for.

More About Robert Romine.

DENVER (Colo.) Sept. 12.—A special
from La Junta, Colo., says that Robert Romine, the prisoner at La Junta
who has confessed to complicity in the Independence explosion, June 6, was in La Junta on that date. He was in the Santa Fe shops at La Junta for about two months. It is said, being under the name of I. O. White, and his identity was known to Rev. Conrad Blumh and others. He left La Junta
June 9.

PHOTOGRAPHS FOR EVIDENCE.

TOKIO, Sept. 12.—An additional re-
port from the headquarters of the Japanese army concerning dum-dum
bullets says:

"Among the rifle ammunition captured at Liao Yang are two kinds of
dum-dum bullets which very much resemble those made for the Russian
rifle of the 1891 type. They do not,
however, fit this rifle exactly. We
made search for rifles which could
have fired the bullets but failed to find
them. The wounds received by some
of our men are comparatively large
and it seems likely that they were made by dum-dum bullets. We had,
however, been unable to ascertain definitely.

"The presence of the bullets explains itself. Photographs of the bul-
lets and papers relating to this matter
will be forwarded later."

SCHUMANN-HEINCK'S DEBUT.

DETROIT (Mich.) Sept. 12.—Madame Schumann-Heink, the well-known
grand opera and concert contralto
singer, made her debut in concert
in the Detroit Opera-house tonight in
"Love's Lottery," presented by Frederick Whittier. Madame Schumann-Heink scored a splendid success.

CONTRABAND DECISION REACHED.

been considering the contraband question has reached a decision. While unable to ascertain its exact terms, the supercorps of the Associated Press
believes that it is favorable in the main
to the contentions of the United States
and Great Britain.

WITH CHEERS AND TEARS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 12, 7:30
a.m.—In publishing Lieut.-Gen. Sto-

LETTER REPLYING TO THAT OF THE EMPEROR, sent recently, reducing the Arthur garrison's term of military service, the Official Messenger
of the news was received by the crowd now with cheers and tears
of gratitude.

There is no intimation given as to the method whereby the reply was sent from Port Arthur, but it is dated September 6, indicating that something that was a week is necessary to communicate between St. Petersburg and the beleaguered garrison.

LENA CAN'T SCARE US.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 12, 8:00
a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The presence of the Russian cruiser Lena
in San Francisco did not cause anymore concern among officials in Washington, and nobody believes that it will create an international incident between the United States and Russia or the United States
and Japan. When the State and Navy departments this morning received

official notification that the ship was
at San Francisco, they had a conference, and it appeared to be perfectly plain that it will be the duty of the United States to follow well-understood lines in such matters.

If the commander of the Lena is correct, and his ship is in an unsea-
worthy condition, he has a perfect right in San Francisco harbor, or any other harbor, provided he promptly
disarms his vessel. If she is in seaworthy condition, then he has no
right to remain in a neutral port for more than a reasonable length of time. The mission of the Lena in coming across the Pacific Ocean does not, the officials say, enter into the
case at all, because, in time of war,
belligerents have as well recognized
rights upon the high seas as any other ships. It is expected that the commander of the Lena will show that
his ship is in an unseaworthy condition, disarm her, and make repairs.
If he does not show that she is in
an unseaworthy condition, it is expected
he will get out before long.

There does not seem to be the faint-
est suspicion in the minds of officials
in Washington that Russia is trying to get us involved in her war with Japan.

GERMANY AS MEDIATOR.

MOST DISINTERESTED POWER.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 12, 7:30 a.m.
—[By Atlantic Cable.] Reports of impending intervention by the powers
to the Novoe Vremya, which says
there is no prospect of such action by France, which would sincerely like to see peace. The paper says it thinks,
rather, that Germany should under-
take the task of separating the combatants, as Germany has not the same material interest to be affected as have France and the United States.

On the other hand, the Novoe Vrem-

LOSSES AT LIAO YANG.

THE PRESIDENT GETS FIGURES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 12.—The President received today through the State Department a cablegram from United States Minister Grikom, Tokio, giving
revised official figures of the loss at the battle of Liao Yang. As reported by Field Marshal Oyama, the Japanese
losses during the several days' battle
were 17,500, while the Russian losses
were 20,000.

NINETY PER CENT. IN ATTACKS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

LIAO YANG, Sept. 12.—It is now reported upon good authority that in some of the assaults made by the Japanese upon the Russian trenches surrounding Liao Yang, September 1 and 2, the attackers, at some places, lost
in killed, or wounded 90 per cent.
of the numbers engaged.

PITIFUL NON-COMBATANTS.

MANY KILLED, MORE WOUNDED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

TOKIO, Sept. 12.—A report received
from the headquarters of the Japanese Manchurian armies tells of the pitiful condition of non-combatants in Liao Yang. It relates that then the Russians were holding the defense
works close to the walls of Liao Yang
they prohibited the removal of non-combatants from the city, and consequently many were killed and wounded.

Dr. A. M. Westwater, a well-known British missionary of Liao Yang, is at present sheltering two hundred
wounded non-combatants and feeling
and nursing many more.

Continuing the report says: "The condition of these people is beyond
description and it is awful to see the results of this Russian inhumanity.
The killed and wounded were of course
hit by our fire, but the Russians were responsible. It is a great pity to extend the calamities of war to non-combatants."

FOUND DUM-DUM BULLETS.

JAPANESE MAKE CHARGES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The Japanese legation today received the following cablegram from Tokio:

"The Manchurian army reports that
two kinds of dum-dum bullets were among the munitions of war captured
at the Liao Yang battle. They resembled cartridges intended for the Russian rifles of the type of 1891.
Some of the wounds inflicted on the Japanese, it is thought, were caused
by bullets of this description."

STRENGTHENING BELIEF.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

LIAO YANG, Sept. 12.—In the past
the Japanese have declared their belief that the Russians were using dum-
dum bullets, basing their contention
on the vicious wounds made by the bullets when they struck, and they now consider that they have proved
their case by the fact that they found
dum-dum ammunition in the field at Liao Yang. This evidence is not considered conclusive, however.

PHOTOGRAPHS FOR EVIDENCE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

TOKIO, Sept. 12.—An additional re-
port from the headquarters of the Japanese army concerning dum-dum
bullets says:

"Among the rifle ammunition cap-
tured at Liao Yang are two kinds of
dum-dum bullets which very much re-
semble those made for the Russian
rifle of the 1891 type. They do not,
however, fit this rifle exactly. We
made search for rifles which could
have fired the bullets but failed to find
them. The wounds received by some
of our men are comparatively large
and it seems likely that they were
made by dum-dum bullets. We had,
however, been unable to ascertain de-
finitely.

"The presence of the bullets ex-
plains itself. Photographs of the bul-
lets and papers relating to this matter
will be forwarded later."

SUBMARINES
FOR JAPS.

Five Formidable Torpedo Boats
are Being Rushed to Completion in This Country.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The World's Boston special says that with unceasing labor, attended by scrupulous secrecy, the Japanese government is having rushed to completion in this country, a fleet of submarine torpedo boats intended
to excel any war craft of that type in the world.

No more remarkable instance
of the secret initiative which has marked the movements of Japan
in the war with Russia is afforded than that presented in this work by American shipbuilders.
Screened by two unfinished
American battleships and two steel barges of the Standard Oil Company, five cigar-shaped steel
hulls are on the stocks in Fore
River Iron Works, at Quincy Point, Mass.

Quite as important as the specifications of the boats and the necessity for prodigious activity
in completing them was the demand for absolute secrecy.

Japan desired to catch her enemy unawares, with the most formidable, if not the largest submarine fleet possessed by any power.

I. T. DYER RESIGNS.

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Sept. 12.—I. T.
Dyer, who for fifteen years has been superintendent of telegraph of the Burlington Railway lines in Missouri, today tendered his resignation
from his position as manager of an investment company in California.

SILVERWOOD HATS

Most men have no time to study
what's right and wrong in the way hats are made. They are obliged to trust implicitly in the judgment of their makers.

You see the result—therefore
of buying what is a store whose
styles are right and whose judgment is worthy of such acceptance.

Silverwood hats have come to be looked upon as the standard of style just as they are the standard of quality.

Why not be safe and wear a

Dealer Who Gets Out Regular Catalogue Exposed in Berlin—Quotations to Fit Any Pocket.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—[By Atlantic
Cable.] There has been exposure here
of a regular dealer in orders and titles,
who, it is said, claims to be able to procure honors in several of the European states for persons who are willing to devote the necessary money to "charitable purposes."

The trafficker in these honors, who is a Tyrolean, is said to conduct his trade
in a business-like manner and to issue
such titles as nobility, baron, knight,
the degree of nobility in certain German
states at $30,000 and the baronetcy at $50,000. The nobility at $40,000.
Turkish orders from $200 downward,
and Persian orders at low prices.

Portuguese titles of count and marquis are said to be offered without the price being named, and consulates in various South American countries and in Persia are reported to be on sale
from $100 to $200.

Definite lower prices for a host of minor decorations, it is declared, are also given in the price list.

TROLLEY BLOCKADE.

Car Crosswise on Switch and Wrecked
Oil Wagon Interferes With Traffic.

Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock an incoming Santa Monica car struck a switch on Sixteenth street in such a manner that the kingbolt of the vehicle was broken, the woodwork beneath the floor scattered in the street,
and the car turned crosswise on the track. The result was an hour's blockade of the trolley line, which was restored only after a score of cars were tied up, while passengers had to take
other lines downtown.

While all these cars were held up on the track, a fire engine was sent to the track of another line four blocks away, stopping traffic some time. Many persons who were on the cars waiting for the trolley were again caught.

FLASHES FROM THE WIRES

Notorious Max Regis, former Mayor
of Algiers and well-known anti-Semite,
died yesterday morning. He was a prominent sportsman yesterday. In a sword duel fought in the suburbs of Paris.

The steamer Germanic, after being
grounded all night in Swath Channel,
outside Sandy Hook, got off without assistance yesterday morning and proceeded to her pier.

Chicago Northern Pacific officers report passenger train No. 10, which was held up on account of burning out
of snowdrifts.

The launch containing William Robinson, wife and daughter, and E. F.
Carter, concerning whose safe grave
fears had been expressed, arrived at Bridgeport, Ct., late Sunday night.
The party had been storm-bound in Huntington Harbor, Long Island,
since Friday.

From Cherbourg the Olympia, flagship of Rear Admiral Jewell, and the Cleveland and the Des Moines of the United States European squadron, yesterday sailed for Christiania, Norway.

The explosion which killed four men
in the harbor of Chempulup last Thursday was on the Italian armored cruiser
Marco Polo, and not on the cruiser Puglia, as previously reported. Of the 16 men who were wounded, all are recovering.

ALL TOOK HAND AT LOOTING.

LIAO YANG VICTIM OF RUSSIANS, CHINESE AND JAPS.

Three Armies on Three Different Days had Possession of the City, and What They Didn't Help Themselves to Wasn't Worth Taking. Japanese Officers Much Disturbed.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. LIAO YANG, Sept. 8.—The Times, Sept. 12.—By Asiatic cable. The looting of Liao Yang has three parallels in the annals of warfare. Three armies on three different days had possession of the city and engaged in acts of depredation.

When the Russians entered into the occupation of Liao Yang they built a model Russian city outside the old walled Chinese city and thousands of foodstuffs and other goods, including open bales, bags and boxes with the ever-ready bayonet and scattering their contents over the streets. Much liquor was found, and the soldiers, becoming drunk, committed further excesses.

During the interim of the departure of the Russians and the arrival of the Japanese the Chinese soldiers and police finished what the Russians began, pillaging the shops that were not found by the Russians.

Then when the Japanese came they took the looting. They have been fighting for five days without food, except dry rice, and broke loose upon entering the town. The Japanese looted the shops having all ready turned their attention to the private houses. They were food principally, but overlooked nothing.

This was the first time in this war that the Japanese were guilty of looting a captured city, and their officers were much disturbed by the outbreak. When order was restored the Japanese soldiers and police were taken to the city, and now are not allowed inside without a special pass.

The Russians burned great quantities of supplies.

Food in the Chinese city is very scarce.

THE DOVE OF PEACE.

It Is Freely Utilized and Does Important Service in Time of War.

[The Pigeon:] Such is the exigency of war that even the gentle dove of peace is pressed into service. It has been played by these birds and the yeoman service they rendered in the South African War will still be fresh in many memories, and notwithstanding the advent and progress of wireless telegraphy, "the faithful messenger" is again being active service in time with the Japanese and Russian forces.

Russia has long established military lofts at her fortified towns in Manchuria, and has more recently accented the offer of French colombophile fanciers to organize a service of these birds in outlying districts. This last move on her part has already borne fruit, messenger pigeons being used to carry messages from the Russian forces to the beleaguered Port Arthur by these birds. The Russians were enabled to accomplish this owing to their having previously collected the pigeons from outside lofts and stored them within their stronghold to be liberated as occasion required. The birds were taken from the lofts were at the same time taken out of the port, and thus the besieged city will be kept informed of events happening outside.

With a far-seeing foresight, the necessity of which is only now apparent to the world, the Russians have established their military and naval lofts, and by repeated experiments since have organized a system of carrying messages by the highest qualities of the pigeons with which their lofts were stocked. Many centuries before the "winged messenger" found its way into England, a bird known as the oriental pigeon was used in Eastern Asia, and descendants of the race are still to be met with in China. Recourse was at first made by our allies to this strain, but the oriental pigeon was almost invariably discarded in favor of the bird now used by England and the continental powers. High officials in the Japanese army visited this country in connection with many of the choicest birds London and fanciers in the middlelands could supply.

Even though the American rifleman have decided to send back the Palma trophy, the American soldier is noted as a shot. Perhaps the best marksmen in the army, however, are the men from the mountains of Kentucky and Tennessee. On infantry captain recently told of a recruit from Kentucky, a gawky mountain boy, who was so sure of his mark that he was "lick" him into a soldier. "Soon after my company was sent out for target practice on the range," said the captain, "my Kentucky boy beat out every man in my company, some of them veterans wearing the distinguished marksmanship medals in a common card. He was as crackjack a rifle shot as I ever saw in the army, and I'd be willing to bet that there wasn't a shot in that team that lately won the Palma trophy in England that could outshoot him. The gawky Kentucky boy's performance on the range filled me with amazement, as it did everybody else who watched his marvelous shooting; and when he was through I said to him: 'Look here, boy, where did you ever get a chance to practice such fine shooting?' 'Plinkin' revolvers offshoots, suh,' he replied with a grin. 'Yo all fuhgits, suh, that Ah'm from Kentucky.'—New York Tribune.

James Lowther, Conservative member of Parliament for the Thetford division of Kent, and formerly Chief Secretary for Ireland, is dead. He was born in 1840.

STAGE COACH FOR FRANCIS.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 12.—A six-horse, thirty-four passenger coach of the tail-made style has arrived at the World's Fair from Yellowstone National Park, and has been placed at the disposal of President Francis for the remainder of the exposition. It will be used to convey distinguished parties over the grounds. The coach will be driven by John Reynolds, who has been staging in the West since 1871.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

PRICE 3 CENTS

FRED LLOYD WEDS COUSIN.

Marries Margaret Boxall on Board Launch.

Chooses San Pedro Harbor as Fitting Place.

Seeks More Notoriety, and Obtains Some.

Married, at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Monday, September 12, on board the launch Blanche, in the harbor at San Pedro, Fred W. Lloyd, son of Charles R. Lloyd, the missing San Bernardino capitalist, and Miss Margaret Boxall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Boxall of Santa Monica. Justice J. V. B. Goodrich officiating.

This is written another notoriety chapter in the annals of the Lloyd-Boxall family, with two of the late chief actors in a wretched and celebrated tragedy in the roles of bride and groom.

Most persons similarly situated would have sought the seclusion of a rustic chapel or the quiet parlor of a little-known clergyman for their wedding place. But the son of the missing San Bernardino capitalist is not of the shrinking sort—when publicity is involved.

What William Boxall, Sr., the bride's father, white-haired, stern and stately Englishman, will say when the news is brought to him this morning, if he is not aware of it already, the few who know him may surmise. He it was who said, in the awful wrath of a father whose daughters had been shamed before the world by their uncle—his own wife's brother—Lloyd the elder: "My house is my castle. My family affairs are my own. Keep out of my house and off my grounds—or take the consequences."

Margaret Boxall's parents, it now is said, bitterly opposed the marriage of their daughter to young Lloyd, of whom the old Englishman has been heard to say strong things. When the courtship began no gossip has come forward to say whether before or after the trial of William Boxall, Jr., at San Bernardino for the attempted slaying of Fred Lloyd's father. But rumor does vouchsafe that for weeks past the Boxall parents had been hiding Miss Margaret from Fred; that he had sought her at the house of friends of the Boxalls at Santa Monica, and in Ocean Park, without result. In the search he was aided by McCoy Malcomb, according to an official statement, and finally, on Sunday, found the girl semi-hidden at Long Beach.

THE WEDDING PARTY.

The wedding was then clandestinely arranged, and yesterday was carried out as programmed.

At 1 o'clock the launch Blanche touched at Seaside Park, some distance from Long Beach, where Miss Boxall and Lloyd went aboard, with considerable difficulty, owing to the roughness of the sea. Other persons on the Blanche were Mrs. W. Reynolds, Dr. P. W. Reynolds, H. W. Armour, John Keary, J. H. Stearns, and Judge J. V. B. Goodrich of San Pedro. The launch ran for San Pedro, and at 3 o'clock, immediately after entering the inner harbor and the city limits of San Pedro, the ceremony was performed.

Since Fred Lloyd's failure to break his father's will which cut him off without provision other than a bequest of $10, the young man has been doing some kind of clerical work at San Pedro. He had altered his appearance almost completely by shaving off his mustache and the second trial of William Boxall for assault to murder. It is presumed he and his bride will make their home in San Pedro.

In the late winter of 1903 occurred what afterward came to be looked upon as the most sensational incident in the criminal annals of San Bernardino. Charles R. Lloyd, reputed to be the wealthiest man in that city, president of its electric railway and in many ways its most influential citizen, was shot three times with a pistol, while driving in the grounds of his private residence, "The Bungalow," by his nephew, William Boxall. In a wild endeavor to get away, Lloyd's horse was hurled into a gulch; but the rain of bullets pursued with deadly effect. Boxall being shot from the front veranda of "The Bungalow" and from the vantage point ran down the steps and through the yard, firing as he ran at the retreating figure behind the flying horse.

Charles Lloyd was taken, in what was understood to be a dying condition, to the hospital, whence bulletins were issued daily by his physicians for two weeks. One of Boxall's bullets had shattered a vertebra and, as the captain's death was expected momentarily.

Boxall surrendered himself quietly and was locked in a cell in the County Jail. There he was held, without bail, to await the outcome of his act.

SECRECY INVOKED.

The special newspaper correspondents who hurried to San Bernardino found confronting them a story, the unraveling of which proved impossible. The wounded man was a member of a powerful secret organization, whose influence was exerted to the utmost to save his name for the time being from the universal loathing that must follow the disclosure of the conduct on his part which led young Boxall to seek his life.

These efforts for secrecy succeeded only in part. It was not long before the world knew that the man who had been shot was the nephew of the missing San Bernardino capitalist, and that the man who had shot him was the son of the missing San Bernardino capitalist. The disclosure of the conduct on his part which led young Boxall to seek his life.

Eventually, William Boxall was brought to trial, charged with the murder of his uncle. Named lawyers were to defend. The prosecution was unable to produce certain customary evidence that Lloyd was dead, and the

BEER PACKED IN OIL BOXES.

Sensational Raid Begun on the "Blind Pigs."

One of County's Prominent Politicians Caught.

On-the-sly Rural Saloon Under the Swoop.

Traffic in beer disguised as coal oil is about to be laid bare in the most sensational "blind pig" raid ever planned by the District Attorney. It is now in full swing.

John Greis, one of the most prominent politicians in the county, has been caught in the squalor.

Evidence has been found by the detectives to show that one, if not more, of the big Los Angeles breweries has been conspiring to bring about crime by putting up bottled beer in innocent-looking coal-oil boxes.

Complaints were sworn to against "blind pig" operators in all parts of the county last night. The full extent of the swoop may not be known for a day or two.

There are many laughable features of the raid. The catching of John Greis at Compton was a comedy.

Information came in some time ago that a "blind pig" was going full blast in the big hall in Compton—a temperance town.

Four or five detectives drifted plausibly into that town a few days ago. They went to the alleged "blind pig," but found nothing except a religious, holy calm about the place. The man in charge looked absolutely shocked at the suggestion of the Demon Rum.

Drinks? No, indeed, he would not sell drinks. CAUGHT BY A BLUFF.

One of the detectives said, craftily, "Well, I'll bet if my old friend John Greis were here, I could get a drink."

The man brightened up. "Do you know, Greis?" he asked, enthusiastically. "The fact was the detective knew him only by sight."

But still the "barkeep" wouldn't sell the drinks.

The detectives drifted around town. Going back the way of the blind pig, they were horrified to see John Greis talking to the bartender, whose name is Joe Goodrow.

The head detective knew that in a minute his bluff about knowing John Greis would be called. He determined to bluff it out.

Stepping up and holding out his hand, he said, "Why, hello, John Greis, how are you?"

Greis shook hands and evidently tried to think where in tartarion he had known the fellow. The bluff "went."

As they parted, the detective mentioned that the crowd was going very dry.

John said to his bartender: "These fellows are all right. Take them up to the bar and give them anything they want."

They did not go right away, however. Lately in the evening, Greis sent for them himself to come over to the place.

Between them all they lapped up booze enough to float something larger than a chip.

Greis became very talkative. He told them he owned the place himself, although he poses as a farmer in Compton.

"This is my place," he said. "Right here is where I do my politics. If 'twasn't for that—damn District Attorney, I would have the place down-stairs."

The detectives bought so much that the keeper of another "blind pig" in Compton (of whose existence they did not know) sent for them. He was "sore" because John Greis was getting all their trade. He asked them to come to his place.

Just to show there wasn't any hard feeling, they did as he asked.

The warrant for John Greis shows that his name is Joe Greis. His place is under the billiard hall. John's is above.

Greis is to be arrested today and tried in Pasadena.

DEATH CALLED THIS PIONEER.

HANCOCK JOHNSTON PASSES AWAY AT EAST SIDE HOME.

Was Member of a Prominent Southern Family and Long a Resident of East Los Angeles. Where Streets Bear Both His Family and Given Names—Funeral Tomorrow.

Death called a pioneer of Los Angeles yesterday, and in the passing of Hancock Johnston, the city, and especially the East Side, loses one of its well-known citizens.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow forenoon at 10:30 o'clock at the family residence, No. 213 Downey avenue, and the interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Hancock Johnston was born in December, 1847, at China Grove Plantation, Brazoria county, Tex., and was a member of one of the prominent southern families. He had resided in Los Angeles for many years, and leaves a widow and three sons.

He had extensive interests on the East Side, and two of the principal streets of that part of the city, Hancock street and Johnston street, were named in his honor.

MYSTERY UNSOLVED.

Who is Dead Man, Well Dressed and With Money in His Pocket?

As much a mystery as ever is the identity of the young man, a Mexican, evidently of the better class, who was killed at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon between Long Beach and San Pedro by a train on the Salt Lake road. On his person was found more than $200 in cash. The clothes he wore are of excellent material and well made. He was what would be called a "well-groomed." His hands bore no sign of toil.

Coroner Trout yesterday afternoon held an inquest over the body at Long Beach, a verdict of accidental death being returned. Inquiries made by the coroner at adjacent points failed to bring out the dead man's person failed of any result.

For the present the body is being held, in the hope that someone will come forward and solve the mystery of who and what he was.

FELL FROM STREET CAR.

Mrs. Ramona Latina, Who was Thought Not Seriously Injured, Unexpectedly Died.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Ramona Latina took a Mateo-street car for her home, after having been to a dentist to have a tooth extracted, and as the car approached her home near Mateo and LeGrand streets she got up to leave at the corner. It is said she stepped off before the car stopped. She was thrown violently to the ground and was unconscious when picked up.

At the Receiving Hospital it was given out that she was not seriously injured. After she had revived she was sent to her home in the hands of her husband, who had appeared at the Police Station soon after her arrival.

There was no outward evidence of her being seriously hurt. It was a surprise when late last night the coroner was notified that the woman had died, and that she had been found lying under the billiard hall. John's is above.

Port Arthur's Name.

The connection that exists between Port Arthur and a peaceful village in Devonshire is little known. Half a century ago, when the Rev. James Arthur, the father of Lieut. W. Arthur, R.N., and great-uncle of the present governor, the Rev. W. Arthur, and Lieut. Arthur was somewhere about 1859, sent in command of the gunboat Albatross into Chinese waters. The Albatross was attached to a surveying expedition prior to the landing made by the English and French in 1860, and when the flagship Acton was disabled, Lieut. Arthur towed her into the then unnamed harbor, which was thenceforth known as Port Arthur. Lieut. Arthur afterward attained the rank of rear-admiral. [Westminster Gazette.]

SOFT DRINKS HEREAFTER.

Labor Union's Debauch in Park the Limit.

End of Beer at Schuetzen, Says Authority.

Half the Story of Sunday's Shame Never Told.

Next Sunday's picnic at Schuetzen Park will be beerless.

After last Sunday's wild debauch, even the labor union will not dare ask for a further extension of time. Soft drinks will be taken in that park hereafter.

The District Attorney ordered the beer-selling stopped once before, but the totemites raised a great howl because they claimed it was done to shut out their Labor Day fun. What good would Labor Day be without "booze?"

Last Sunday's picnic of the Metal and Wire Workers was a wild good-by.

The half of what union labor did that day will never be told. Much of it wouldn't do to print.

An officer who was sent out late in the afternoon tells of the scenes he saw in half an hour or so.

The first was in the pavilion, where a tough dance was in progress. Some man or woman seemed to be called "Till" or "Tiff," bumped into another couple in the dance. A drunken free fight took place on the spot in the midst of the dancers. Blows and foul language were freely exchanged for the edification of the frightened women dancers.

The officers finally rushed in and broke up the fight.

They had scarcely come outside when a fight started in the open air between two men down by the beer booth. Both were half paralyzed with drink. This fight was stopped by the officers.

The next thing that happened was the attempt of some of the drunken totemites to attack a man and woman. The woman was ugly and the man was fighting, ugly drunk.

The woman in her merry perambulation had written with a pencil all over his collar. He got into a dispute with some of the drunken union men and they tried to turn the buggy over. The man stood up in the buggy, pulled of his coat and defied them to fight. He was talking about the edification of the frightened women dancers.

DECENCY LONESOME.

They were hardly out of that before this officer had to go to the rescue of a woman who had been vilely insulted.

She is a respectable woman and she must have been terribly lonesome.

As she was sitting apart, watching the carousal, one of the men leaped up to her and asked her to drink with him. She responded civilly that she did not care to drink, and turned away to avoid conversation. He urged her again, and when she refused he made an ugly remark to her. The Times would be excluded from the United States mails were this remark printed. It was the worst that could possibly be said to a pure woman. She tearfully appealed for help, and got it.

Another fight started when one of the officers tried to stop it, a brutal ruffian snapped at his finger like a vicious dog, and bit it so it is severely lacerated.

The wildest scene of all was in the trolley car coming home.

A large bunch of the union men, with many women, got on the car and started a fight. The car was well filled with drunk people coming home from Pasadena. They were trampled and stamped on—even splashed with dripping beer.

GORE-SPATTERED CAR.

Men and women spattered part of the fight. A young deputy constable happened to be on the top of the car coming home. He reached down and yanked the bell rope. The car stopped. He jumped into the car, and by sheer grit and courage forced the whole mob of rioters to leave.

After they left, the car floor and seats were found spattered with blood. Some refined women on that car heard horrible language that will ring in their ears for a long time.

The period of these simple, joyous excursions of the unions have ceased. Schuetzen is expected to become respectable with a sudden bang next Sunday.

The events here related are from absolutely reliable testimony, and can be vouched for.

The disclosures of The Times on Labor Day, of the disgusting events of that picnic, caused sample copies of the paper to be scattered over the city containing frantic denials.

The incidents of that article are true, incident for incident, exactly as they occurred.

A PUZZLE MONUMENT.

Shaft Erected on an Island in Lake George.

Here.

[New York Sun.] A monument is being erected on Diamond Island, a little more than two miles from the head of Lake George, which has excited the curiosity of many. The expense is borne by Mrs. Spencer Trask and two or three of her friends, but she has declined to give any information about it further than the stone itself discloses.

The monument is a rough hewn stone column, nearly square and about two feet in diameter, and with its base it stands about eleven feet high on a rocky bluff, close to the north shore. It bears this inscription, which may be easily read from passing boat islands.

PEACE
TO THE CONQUEROR
WAR
1866-1877.

No one has been able to discover that the date 1866 is significant of anything pertaining to Lake George or the island. It has been suggested that it may refer to the year of the journey of Father Jacques, the missionary canonized by the Catholic Church, who is supposed to have been the first white man to gaze on the waters of Lake George. In 1648, on the eve of the feast of Corpus Christi, he named the lake Lac du St. Sacrement.

For the next hundred years history seems to be a blank, so far as Lake George is concerned, and not until the French and Indian War was it again mentioned. In 1777 Diamond Island was fortified by Burgoyne after his capture of Ticonderoga, and many of his supplies were stored there.

The monument was taken last winter from a massive rock which for many years has overhung the street in Warburg in such a manner that those who did not know its history were often in fear that it would crash down upon them as they passed below it. It was drawn across the lake on the ice and workmen have been for months engaged in erecting it and a handsome pavilion near by.

The pavilion has heavy stone foundations, the floor is of stone and brick, and the roof is supported by ten massive stone columns. Mrs. Trask has caused this to be erected as a place of shelter for parties who may wish to visit the island.

The Most Exclusive Club.

There has been a recent discussion in London as to which is the most exclusive club in London or in Great Britain. It has been decided that apart from the Jockey Club, which is hardly a club in the accepted sense of the word, the Royal Yacht Squadron is the most exclusive club in England. Every member must be of unqualified social position, and there are consequently few foreigners, and as yet no resident Americans are members. The entrance fee is 500 and the subscription 11 guineas. The turf stands next to the Royal Yacht Squadron in exclusiveness. Years ago it used to be White's, but today the latter club is not at all the place it was when the eighteenth century was young. The Marlborough is exclusive, as it is the King's club; the Travelers is also a very difficult club in which to gain membership. The St. James and the Bachelors are rather more open to date. There are now many Americans in nearly all the average clubs in London. The old conservative element still is disposed to close the doors of their clubs against foreigners, but the invasion will come in time. [New York Times.]

When the Fish Get Drunk.

The strangest sight known to Trenton, N. J., is "fish drunk." Such a drunk is not a plain drunk, but one which makes the onlooker believe that perhaps Munchausen was not so inventive after all.

It happens at the Olden-avenue bridge, adjoining the brewery, every time the beer rats are cleaned and emptied into the stream alongside.

When the foaming malt pours forth into the water one may see a rush to the bar. It is just like a beaming politician asking his fellow-clients to "have one." Fickler, eels, perch and catfish mingle in the festivities, and the meaning of the old saying, "He drinks like a fish," becomes evident.

The fish is said, leap out of the water, dart at one another, and throw themselves high and dry on the stones at the water's edge. When one less blubbery fellow starts to leave, with the idea that there will be trouble in the family if he stays longer, his companions gather about him and coax him back for "just one more." As their debauch begins to assume its second stage, the bearded fish drift slowly down the stream, quite regardless of the fact that they are sizzling on a kitchen fire, victims of their own conviviality.

Residents of the brewery section of the city who have witnessed these "fish drunk" time and again say the fish come down stream in schools just before it is time for the weekly vat cleaning, and upon reaching the Olden-avenue bridge patiently await developments and beer. [New York Times.]

A Strong Protest.

FERNANDO, Sept. 8, 1904.—[To the Editor of The Times.] I have read with interest the editorial in your issue of the 6th inst. headed "The Interstate Commerce Commission," and it appears that the public has some right to be angry with the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is a pity that the railroad attorney, Mr. Fling, who argued the case in their behalf, is a Republican candidate for United States Senator. I am sure that the influence of the machine—and I am too in pretty good authority that various members of the Legislature are dominated by Republican votes for the Legislature in his behalf. The people here know all about the trouble with the citizens and the railroad companies, the railroads and the various extortion that have been practiced, especially in the case of the Texas and Pacific Railroad. And now it is proposed to place retained its republican party from the day of its inception. I think that the citrus fruit growers and patrons of the railroads should see to it that such a thing should not be allowed to become, and to that end I favor the nominating and electing of some candidate who will sustain the interests of the parties against whom we have long been contending, and to whose dictate we have been compelled to bow. I will not vote for any member of the Legislature who will support Mr. Flint for United States Senator, and I think that any farmer, especially a citrus fruit

Our political opponents accuse the union of supporting a corrupt politician, saying that he is "the mother of trusts." As a being I think that party the least unlikable, and the only party to which the producer and laborer can look for aid. I am not a candidate for political office, but in the employ of any person or corporation, or in any of the various combinations which are in restraint of trade or which promote extortions.

As It Should Be.

...a Catholic and a very trustworthy citizen; the other was a non-Catholic and a good man also. It so happened that in the election of the delegate there were six Catholics. We were called five of the six voted for the non-Catholic, and one for the Catholic. The vote was a tie; each side had three votes. We were then called on the second ballot, and the remaining delegate went over to his co-delegates and nominated the non-Catholic. This vote was certainly one of the more remarkable ones in all the more remarkable when they saw that the man they voted for was only a few years ago an active member of the A. O. U. of the A. O. U. This is as it should be. The man who solicits his fellow-men to vote against his neighbor on account of religion is a bigot and should be treated as such.

A GOOD-BYE PRICE ON OXFORDS AT THE

239 SOUTH SPRING STREET.

BETTER BINK NATIONAL PRIDE. PARIS, Sept. 12.—The Journal's Liao Yang correspondent, having ridden to Tien-Tsin, sends thence the following uncensored dispatch under date of September 12, 6 p.m.:

"The first part of the campaign may be considered lost. The Russian army has retreated northward in the direction of Tie Pass or farther. The Russian army's inferiority in men, guns and enthusiasm prevents Kouroung's resisting longer at Liao Yang or achieving at Yental a victory which would have obliged the Japanese to fall back. The Japanese will shortly triumphantly enter Mukden."

POOLS OF BLOOD. The correspondent graphically describes the fighting for possession of a hill at Helyingtai (about fifteen miles northeast of Liao Yang), the key to the Russian position, and upon the character of which depended the Russian position. The Japanese attack on the hill was a double night attack, the Japanese trying to capture a battery that had been destroyed during the day, and the Russians seeking to recapture Helyingtai.

ARREST OF A COUNTESS. Charged With Obtaining Valuable Goods Under False Pretenses. [Baltimore American.] The Countess de la Tour de Pin, whose arrest the other day at the instance of a jeweler of Rue France-Bourgeois, on a charge of fraud, created so great a sensation in the Faubourg St. Germain at Paris, is by birth a Countess de Chateaubriand, a grandchild of the famous poet and statesman of that name, and by her marriage a member of one of the oldest and noblest families of France, which traces back its ancestry in an unbroken line to the sovereign Barons de la Tour of the thirteenth century, who figure in nearly every one of the Crusades.

ALL SORTS. Local tennis players, without wishing to detract from Drummond McGavin's ability, are inclined to think that he took the worst of it in jumping off an overland train and into a tennis court to play for the State championship. He was tired and out of form. McGavin has improved wonderfully, but it is somewhat to be doubted if he is Bell's master with Alfonso in shape to do his best.

The Tribune played good amateur ball last year, and for the better. Address Challenges to Paul Porter, 312 Wilcox building, or phone Red 1895.

DRIVER'S NERVE SAVES LIVES.

FERRIBLE ACCIDENT AVERTED ON MOUNTAIN ROAD.

Man at Reins Steps to Ground to Adjust Harness - Animals Take Fright and Dash Down Grade, Dragging the Driver, Who Stops Horses on Edge of Embankment.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Grit of a driver saved a stage with six passengers from a terrible death on the mountain road coming down from Skyland this morning.

The driver had alighted to readjust the harness, when the left wheelhorse became frightened and plunging, frightened the other five horses, who tore down the grade. The driver clung to the bit of the leading horse and was dragged a considerable distance. Mrs. Harry Kennedy of Chicago leaped while the vehicle was going at high speed, sustaining a painful injury to the left foot, which is badly sprained, a small bone of the foot probably being broken.

The stage was on the edge of an embankment when the driver succeeded in checking the horses.

STORMS STILL RAGE.

Storms continued raging along the San Bernardino Mountains and the desert section this afternoon. Redlands caught the ragged edge, and the Crowsfoot district drenching, which in some localities amounted to a cloudburst.

From the Arizona country paints the rain in a jubilant mood, the late rains having caused the feed to spring up over all the ranges and from Peach Springs east moving machines are in demand, the wild grass having reached a height of fifteen inches and in some places two feet.

Native and settler state that such conditions had not obtained before for fifty years, and as a result there are not moving machines enough in Arizona to meet the demand.

Shirley Bright, a civil engineer from Guaymas, Mex., says that the rains in that section have been unprecedented also, and that the water was never before so turbulent, even in the midst of the rainiest season on record.

NEW AGITATOR.

A man named Wilson, who poses as second vice-president of the International Machinists' Association, has dropped in here to agitate, and announces red-hot talks to the strikers, that he expects will stir them up against the company again, and give them hope of winning a strike which was deplorably lost from the day the men unadvisedly walked out.

The company today received twenty new employees from Chicago and Albany machine shops, and the new men being married men, who will bring their families here. Local bankers state that they are monthly receiving more money for deposits from the new men, who have permanent places as steady mechanics, who propose to make their homes here.

Van Kirk has been a repeated offender, and this afternoon came up for hearing before Justice Hibbard, acting Recorder in the absence of Judge Potter, who took the matter under advisement until Wednesday.

SANTA ANA.

WATCHING TROLLEY GRADERS.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 12.—The application of the Pacific Electric Company on Saturday evening for a franchise to operate its lines on Fourth street is generally accepted here as an indication that work is to be commenced in the near future upon the line from this city to Los Angeles by way of Garden Grove.

through the Garden Grove district all expire on October 15, an added reason why the work should be commenced without delay in order to hold the concessions already obtained.

BARBER SHOP BLOWN UP.

Police Claim Proprietor Himself Caused Explosion, but He Says It's "Black Hand's" Work.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-AP.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Pelligrini Stravali, the Italian barber whose shop was wrecked by an explosion early today, endangering the lives of twenty families who occupied tenements in the building, has been arrested on suspicion of having caused the explosion.

For several hours before the explosion, and for three hours after it, neither Stravali, his wife nor any of their seven children were seen about the place by any of the neighbors. When Stravali finally appeared and saw the ruin in his shop he became greatly excited and walked in anguish over his loss. In his frenzy, the police say, he tore letters and papers on his person and in the wrecked shop. After his arrest, when he was searched, it was found that he had torn up his insurance policies for $1500 which were in a pocket in his coat.

Stravali claims the explosion was caused by members of the "Black Hand" Society, and at the police station he showed two letters signed with the mystic symbol, threatening him with serious things unless he sent $500 to the writers.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

WHEN society throngs the Barlow fête grounds, and the policemen are guarding the doors of the vaudeville show, to keep back the crowd that is pushing and straining to get one peep at the celebrated Amazon beauties, perhaps more than even the efforts of Mrs. M. J. Connell, who has taken an active interest in this special feature, will be appreciated. Mere outsiders might not realize that already this energetic woman has presided at eighteen rehearsals of the stars, besides advising and choosing costumes. It is hard to tell just now what feature will prove most attractive, but Norwood Howard, with his aggregation of international musicians, will doubtless win the eyes of susceptible maidens. Each of the musicians will be dressed in a costume of a different nation, and together they will present a gorgeous showing, led by Norwood Howard, whose enthusiasm will go far toward making a hit.

Hancock Banning has a rival musical organization, but as his is an orchestra of seven pieces, with three girls and four men, who perform, perhaps it does not come in the same category. However, Mr. Banning is a somewhat of an orchestra leader, having been a head man in the amateur orchestra at Catalina.

The vaudeville programme proper will read as follows: (1) Marionettes, (2) Whistling trio, (3) Nine clever vocalists. (4) Monomorey, greatest vocal ever heard in the country. (5) Three Dutch comedians. (6) Dazzling skirt dance: rivals Papina. (7) Billy Nevin, presenting his bevy of youth and beauty. (8) The Marionettes are the cause of much discussion, since their identity is being kept a strict secret. There is much surmise as to who the central one may be, as she is supposed to be an exact imitation of Anna Held. Some think it is Miss Virginia Johnson, whose French ways have often caused her to be compared with the almost imitable "Anna." Suffice it to say that the unknown "she" who is the central one is a well-known beauty and will doubtless cause a sensation. "Billy" Nevin, with his bevy of dark dancing beauties, is slated to win applause. This sextette is composed of the "Misses" (7) Bonnell, Reid, Burke, Macomber, Harwood and Ames. They are to wear imported European gowns of exclusive design, cut, décolleté, with their smiling faces framed in picture hats directly from Paris. These beauties colored belles have a musical specialty, which is without doubt a winner, and Mr. Nevin, who sings the solo part, will show his well-trained vocal ties off to the greatest advantage. On the morning of the fête these six beauties will appear in "Lead swell" shirt-waist suits in a coach driven by Hancock Banning, and without doubt will prove a drawing card. The other attractions will all be well represented in the parade.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Spear and son Hector, of Philadelphia, are visiting their parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. Spear of Pasadena, and their sister, Miss Mary E. Spear of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Held, of No. 1619 Orange street, have been visiting Mrs. Vera Stevens of Oakland for two weeks. Mr. Held went north to attend the Knickerbocker convention. Miss Virginia Johnson and Miss Gertrude King, who have been spending the summer in the East, have returned to Los Angeles.

Miss Lillian Reid, sister of Mrs. E. Kellam, has been the guest of Mrs. Harry Almsworth of Redondo for the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Almsworth expect to leave about October 1 for the World's Fair.

CALL FOR HARMONY.

Methodist Preachers Want City and San Fernando Valley Ranchmen to Get Together.

At the meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Ministers' Association, held yesterday in the German Methodist Church on Olive street, the water litigation between the city of Los Angeles and the land owners in the San Fernando Valley came in for a little attention, and the ministers urged a cessation of hostilities. The following declaration, offered by Presiding Elder A. W. Adkinson, was adopted:

"We, the members of the Methodist Episcopal Ministers' Association of Los Angeles, most earnestly deprecate the unfortunate contention between the city of Los Angeles and the settlers of the San Fernando Valley in regard to water rights, and urge the contending parties to take immediate steps to settle the matter amicably.

An address was made before the association by Rev. George R. Graff of Burbank, and a paper was read by Rev. Frank DeWitt Talmage. The subject of the latter was "Ministerial Cooperation," and ministers were urged to stand together for the good of each other, rather than to be ready to assert the preacher to save the disruption of factional church.

The Irrigation Congress. The official call issued for the meeting of the twelfth national irrigation congress, to be held at El Paso, Tex., on November 15-18, 1934, is of interest to the whole country. It is of special interest to the trans-Mississippi region, in which all arid lands are situated. As announced, the object of national irrigation is to save the forests, to store the floods for use in the dry seasons, to reclaim the deserts and to build homes on the country's vast lands.

There ought to be a large attendance at the irrigation convention at El Paso. That Texas town is not central, even as regards the arid region, but it is a wide-awake community, and it has a decided interest in the work which will be done by the irrigators. Some of the region of insufficient rainfall is in Texas. That State, like all the rest of the country west of the Mississippi, and in fact the entire country east and west will be benefited by the work of reclaiming the deserts which has just been started. It is estimated that the irrigation work will cost 25,000,000 or 30,000,000 to the possible population which the country will be able to support. The products of the arid region under the coming conditions will add largely to the country's power as a great and growing nation. Missouri and the rest of the States and Territories west of the Mississippi must see to it that they are adequately represented at the desert reclamation congress at El Paso.
